

Strategic Partners

'But select those capable from all the people-those who fear God, are trustworthy and hate dishonest gain.....'

Exodus 18:21

At ChurchPlaza we take seriously our ministry and responsibility to the more than 10,000 churches who turn to us every year for assistance. That is why we have formed Strategic Alliances with a select number of leading providers of quality information and services to America's churches to augment our offerings. While there are many providers of services available, we've taken the time to get to know these organizations and the individuals who run them. We trust them and believe that you will be well served if you have needs in their areas of expertise.

Christian Publishing

CTI is America's leading publisher of award winning Christian Magazines (13) for the Evangelical market including Christianity Today, Leadership, Today's Christian Woman and Your Church. CTI also offers a wide range of quality online content at www.christianitytoday.com.

ChurchPlaza has partnered with Christianity Today International to co-publish a valuable FREE monthly Electronic-newsletter dealing with today's most pressing issues facing Christian church/school leadership. Choosing the most applicable articles from CTI's magazine archives, The Church Decision Maker Newsletter regularly addresses topics important to your decision makers such as relationships, ministry, facility planning and management and much more. This electronic newsletter is available FREE to your Pastor, Staff and volunteer leadership at www.churchplaza.com.

Insurance

We have been working with GuideOne Insurance Services since 1999 and consider them to be America's leading provider of quality insurance services to churches. We've gotten to know them from the top of their organization down, and we can tell you they are highly competent and trustworthy.

While there are many providers of insurance products and services for churches, we at ChurchPlaza have selected GuideOne as our exclusively endorsed and recommended insurance source for churches and religions institutions. In the same spirit, GuideOne recommends ChurchPlaza to their clients.

Fund Raising

At the heart of church growth in America is the ability of a congregation to raise funding. Chairman Ben Gill founded RSI 30 years ago as America's first company devoted to the fundraising needs of Christian churches and organizations.

Embedded in the principles of biblical stewardship, RSI has grown to include 175 professionals. Their combined knowledge and leadership have served more than 17,000 local congregations nationwide, in addition to countless camps, academies, conference centers and Christian organizations. To date, RSI has helped faith-based organizations to raise more than $8 billion.

Building Loans

As one of the largest lenders to churches in the United States, Bank of the West takes a consultative approach to meet a church's specialized needs. Whether expanding facilities or breaking new ground, Bank of the West can shepherd a church step by step through the process-from pre qualifying for financing to navigating the maze of solutions. Committed exclusively to the Faith community for nearly two decades, Bank of the West offers the invaluable benefits of experience and stability and the fruit of many highly satisfied ministries.
